Opinion Statement

In my opinion, Tangled is a 5/5 would recommend family film. It begins and ends strong with intriguing events throughout the middle to keep the audience interested.

Reason 1- Open Audience/Family-Friendly

Tangles is a movie for all genders, ages, and types. There are some jokes in the movie that kids may not understand but adults will but it wouldn't be deemed as inappropriate. The film is not too childish or corny and provides enough silliness and adventure for anyone to enjoy.

Reason 2- Combines Romance, Comedy and Animation

A bulk of disney movies are great in some genre areas and lack in others. Tangled is a well-balanced film, as it includes the main genre of romance between Rapunzel and Flynn. But also incorporates comical scenes and great animation of the characters. There are also parts in the movie, where the animated characters sing songs in the middle of tasks, which gives a hint of musical.

Reason 3- Unpredictable

Last but not least, Tangled is not as predictable as a great amount of the other disney animated films. The incorporation of the biggest thief finding the innocent lost princess is all mixed in when they chose to factor in the co-robbers out to catch Flynn and the “mother” trying to keep Rapunzel locked away forever.

Counter Argument

Many critics feel that the characters are not strong enough to support the already weak and cliché story. I honestly disagree because just like in any typical Disney movies I would have never expected Flynn to climb a tower and stumble upon a girl with magical long hair that appears to heal the weak and wounded. I would encourage those with bad reviews of the film to watch again because it is honestly entertaining and a great film to watch.

Conclusion

In conclusion, the film Tangled should be a serious consideration on your movie watchlist because it is family-friendly, combines multiple film genres, and is not as predictable as other animated films.
